

EDITOR'S MESSAGE

The acute demand for information and the need for specialists in the field of obstetrics and gynecology to have at hand specialized current materials that will become useful tools in current practice, whether in the office or in the hospital, led us to lay the foundations of a new journal dedicated to all gynecologists, obstetricians and, last but not least, midwives and nurses in Romania.

We invite you to join us, to contribute together to the development and promotion of continuing medical education of all professionals in the field, in order to achieve our goal for which we have chosen this profession: PATIENT CARE at the highest professional standards.
